About Baby Abuelita

Conceived by a set of working mothers –Baby Abuelita dolls are in the shape and voice of grandparents that sing Spanish-language lullabies. The dolls, modeled after typical grandparents, strive to preserve old cradle songs familiar to Hispanics. Founded in 2005, the company is focused on preserving Hispanic traditions through song for future generations. The family of dolls includes Abuelita Rosa, Abuelito Pancho, Baby Andrea and Baby Tita.

It comes as no surprise then that the debut of Baby Abuelita’s line of dolls singing songs like “Duérmeme mi Niña” and “Los Pollitos” have struck such a strong emotional chord within all segments of the Hispanic community. Besides the allure of the music and the uniqueness of the loveable grandparent dolls, Hispanic families are given a new opportunity to preserve the musical traditions of past generations. As many adults associate these traditional lullabies with songs sung to them by their grandparents, they are touched by the opportunity to feel as though they have a piece of their grandparents with them.
